

PRESS RELEASE - Vienna, March 2, 2016

Semantic Web Company Named to KMWorld's 2016 '100 Companies That Matter in Knowledge Management'

Semantic Web Company, the leading provider of graph-based metadata, search, and analytic solutions, today announced that it has been named to KMWorld's 2016 list of the '100 Companies That Matter in Knowledge Management'. This award is another important milestone for the broad acceptance of Semantic Web standards in enterprises.

“Only last year, our standards-based platform PoolParty Semantic Suite got acknowledged as Trend-Setting Product by KMWorld. We are delighted to be recognized now as an industry leader in innovation and service from KMWorld. Semantic Web technologies have an ever-increasing impact on the management of data and information of many knowledge-intensive organizations,” says Andreas Blumauer, co-founder and CEO of the Semantic Web Company.

KMWorld Editor-in-Chief Sandra Haimila agrees, “Being named to our list of 100 Companies That Matter in Knowledge Management is a prestigious designation because it represents the best in innovation, creativity and functionality. The 100 Companies offer solutions designed to help users and customers find what they need whenever and wherever they need it ... and what they need is the ability to access, analyze and share crucial knowledge.”
